

Profile

I'm a social-first creative, specialising in video, digital storytelling and audience-led content. I create platform-native work that makes ideas clear, relatable and culturally relevant across social and digital channels.

My experience spans social content production, motion design and UX-led thinking across agency, freelance and tech environments. I take projects from concept to delivery, creating engaging, insight-led work refined through iteration and performance.

I thrive in fast-paced environments where speed, quality and adaptability are key. Alongside my creative work, 12+ years in customer-facing roles have strengthened my communication skills and deepened my understanding of diverse audiences.

Work Experience

Visual Designer & Content Curator | A Glitch In the Makeup Freelance & Hybrid

August 2025 – Present

- Independently develop and produce social-first content in collaboration with creators and small brands, managing full production workflows from concept through to delivery. Create short-form video, motion and visual assets informed by emerging platform trends, audience behaviour and cultural moments.
- Adapt content formats to maximise engagement across platforms while maintaining authentic, creator-led storytelling. Regularly test and iterate ideas to improve performance and relevance across channels.
- This role has strengthened my understanding of online communities, trend cycles and how audiences engage with digital content in real time.

Innovation Assistant | Dentsu

August 2024 – February 2026

- Produced high-volume social-first and campaign-led content across multiple platforms, including short-form video, motion graphics and digital communications. Managed projects end-to-end, from concept development and scripting through to filming, editing and publishing platform-specific content.
- Collaborated closely with strategists, designers and marketing teams to deliver content aligned with campaign objectives while remaining culturally relevant and platform-native.
- Regularly translated complex or technical subject matter into clear, engaging visual storytelling. Used audience insight, platform trends and performance data to refine and improve content output over time.
- Notable work included developing social content for brands such as Heinz, Fuel 10K and Ambrosia, focusing on adapting trending formats and creative hooks to increase engagement and brand awareness.

Associate Application Developer | IBM

November 2022 – August 2023

- Worked within agile teams designing user interfaces and digital experiences within structured brand, usability and accessibility frameworks. Applied user-centred design thinking to create clear, functional and accessible digital products.
- Collaborated with developers, product teams and stakeholders to ensure design solutions met both user needs and technical requirements.
- This role strengthened my technical foundation, problem-solving ability and approach to designing for clarity, usability and inclusivity.

Junior Graphic Designer | CHUMS

June 2021 – October 2021

- Supported creative output across digital and brand communications, producing visual assets aligned with established brand guidelines. Contributed to marketing and campaign materials across web, email and social channels.
- Developed core skills in layout, visual storytelling and audience-focused design while gaining early experience working within client briefs, managing feedback and delivering work to tight deadlines in a collaborative team environment.
